Teach For Cambodia Overview

Cambodia is a nation with massive potential. About half of our population is under 25 years old. If we can raise the quality of teaching and learning in classrooms today, we can shape the future direction of our economy and social progress in the next decade. Teach For Cambodia aspires to build local leaders who can catalyze a positive change for our economic and social trajectory through education.

Teach For Cambodia is a registered Cambodian nonprofit organization and a partner of the Teach For All global network of independent organizations in 45 countries. Our mission is to enlist the nation's most promising future leaders in the effort to ensure that all Cambodian children can reach their fullest potential. We partner with the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport and the private sector to recruit, select and develop young Cambodians— outstanding university graduates and professionals of all academic majors and career interests—through the Teach For Cambodia Leadership Development Fellowship.

This Fellowship is a two-year fully paid program with pre-service training (also known as the Leadership Academy) and ongoing training and support to equip Fellows with the knowledge, insights and skills needed to become effective teachers, community leaders and long-term change agents. Fellows will commit as full-time teachers and community project leaders in high-impact regions of Cambodia. After completing the Fellowship, we will support them as alumni take on leadership roles in education, government, the private sector, social innovation and entrepreneurship.
